Hi Dan,

Yes, do you think you could scan the drug packet and send it to me so I can turn it over ahead of time? That would be great.

Thanks for your help,
Alex

You're most welcome Alex. Sure, that sounds fine to me. I will definitely bring the data with me if the case goes to trial. I always bring it so that I can refer to it if I need to. If you need to disclose it ahead of time, I can scan it real quick and email it to you. Yes, definitely send a summons if you'd like me on call, just in case you do need me. Otherwise, let me know if you need anything else. I'll be here. Thanks.

Hi Dan,

Thanks so much for your emails! This is an old case (2006) so I think I'd like to try to go forward with you testifying to Kate's notes and your analysis. I inherited this case from another ADA (and the defendant was in default for a few years), and it doesn't look like the drug packet / file folder was ever requested. Would you be able to bring this with you on the day of trial, if this case actually goes to trial? I'll send a summons for 5/31/11 and put you on call for that day, if that works for you. Let me know what you think.

Thanks so much,
Alex

Hi again Alex. It looks like Kate was the primary/custodial chemist and I was the confirmatory chemist on this case. I don't have a problem testifying to Kate's notes and my analysis if you want to try that. I'm not sure if you've provided the defense with a discovery packet of our data so I'm not sure if that's even a possibility. Let me know what you think or if you have any questions. Thanks.

Hi Alex. [REDACTED] I'll have to look up the data for the sample to see who did what in this case. Typically, one of us has custody of the sample and does the weight and preliminary tests and the other one of us would run the sample on the GC/MS to confirm the preliminary results. If I was the ADA, I would summons both chemists because the confirmatory chemist never sees the actual sample, just an aliquot in a vial with the sample number on it, and the custodial chemist does not do a structural analysis of the sample. However, we've gotten away with having only one or the other testify for the whole case, depending on the judge and defense counsel. I will have our evidence office look up to see which one of us did what and get back to you with that information as soon as I can.

Hi Kate,

This is going to be a late summons for a jury trial on 5/31 in Malden District Court. Before I send out the summonses, I'm curious whether I need to summons both you and Daniel Renczkowski, as you're both listed on the cert. as "Assistant Analysts." Here is the cert info.:

Defendant: [REDACTED]
No.: [REDACTED]
Date received: 12/20/06
Date analyzed: 3/15/07
Drug: Heroin

Do I need both of you to prove it's heroin, or is just one enough? If so, which one of you?

Thank you!
Alex
